Sample Schedules for Incoming Auggies

Students generally take four courses, plus an Augsburg Seminar (AugSem), for a total of 15-17 credits. Fall schedules will include either a writing or religion course, liberal arts courses for the Core Curriculum, and possible major courses.

Humanities  The study of the human experience

- History, American Indian Studies, or Gender, Sexuality, and Women’s Studies
  - Choosing one of these AugSem-paired courses is a good fit to explore history and culture. AIS 208 will allow you to explore both American Indian Studies and Gender, Sexuality and Women’s Studies.
  - HIS 122 20th Century United States OR
  - AIS 208 American Indian Women and Film
  - AUG 101 AugSem connected with HIS 122 OR AIS 208
  - ENL 111 Effective Writing
  - Liberal Arts Course
  - Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

- Other majors in the Humanities
  - Select an AugSem that is interesting to you — from any area — and then choose one of the following as one of your liberal arts courses:
    - Communication Studies: COM 280 Intro to Communication Studies or COM 120 Mass Media and Popular Culture
    - English: Along with ENL 111 Effective Writing, add a literature course, such as ENL 240, 241, 260, or 270
    - Philosophy: PHI 110 Intro to Philosophy, PHI 120 Ethics, or PHI 125 Ethics and Human Identity

Fine Arts  The study of visual and performing arts

- Music
  - There are several music majors, but all music majors take similar courses to begin their program. Depending on previous experience, students may also take a piano class.
  - MUS 101 Materials of Music I
  - AUG 101 AugSem connected with MUS 101
  - REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
  - Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course
  - Liberal Arts Course
  - Band, Choir, or Orchestra (1 credit)
  - Private Lessons (1 credit)

- Art, Film, or Theater
  - Students pursuing a major in art, film, or theater will take either ART 221 Sculpture, FLM 180 Film Sight and Sound, or THR 232 Acting during fall semester.
  - ART 221 Sculpture OR FLM 180 Film Sight and Sound OR THR 232 Acting
  - AUG 101 AugSem connected with ART 221, FLM 180, or THR 232
  - ENL 111 Effective Writing
  - Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course
  - Liberal Arts Course
  - HPE 001 Foundations of Fitness

Social and Behavioral Sciences  The study of people, relationships, society, and behavior

- Economics
  - The MAT 145 Calculus I AugSem or MIS 260 Problem Solving for Business AugSem would both be appropriate for this major.
  - MAT 145 Calculus I OR MIS 260 Problem Solving for Business
  - AUG 101 AugSem connected with MAT 145 or MIS 260
  - ECO 113 Microeconomics
  - REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
  - Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

- Environmental Studies or Urban Studies
  - ENV 100 Environmental Connections will focus on the global water crisis, and is a good starting point for exploring these majors.
  - ENV 100 Environmental Connections
  - AUG 101 AugSem connected with ENV 100
  - ENL 111 Effective Writing
  - Liberal Arts Course
  - Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

- over please -
Social and Behavioral Sciences

Political Science and Pre-Law
Students interested in political science, or who want to explore law, can begin with POL 170 Law in the United States.
- POL 170 Law in the United States
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with POL 170
- ENL 111 Effective Writing
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Psychology
PSY 105 Principles of Psychology is the starting point for students interested in pursuing this major, and is paired with an AugSem.
- PSY 105 Principles of Psychology
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with SWK 100 and PSY 105
- REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Political Science and Pre-Law
- Students interested in political science, or who want to explore law, can begin with POL 170 Law in the United States.
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with POL 170
- ENL 111 Effective Writing
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Psychology
- PSY 105 Principles of Psychology is the starting point for students interested in pursuing this major, and is paired with an AugSem.
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with SWK 100 and PSY 105
- REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Professional Studies

Business
Business majors are flexible — you don’t have to begin taking courses during the first term (or even year) and can still graduate in four years.
- MIS 260 Problem Solving for Business OR MKT 252 Principles of Marketing
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with MIS 260 or MKT 252
- ECO 113 Microeconomics
- REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Elementary or Secondary Education
EDC 110 Teaching in a Diverse World will introduce you to teaching concepts and complete an Education major requirement.
- EDC 110 Teaching in a Diverse World
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with EDC 110
- ENL 111 Effective Writing
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Exercise Science, Health Education, and Physical Education
Students interested in these fields can explore all three areas by taking the HPE 104 Components of Fitness Training course.
- HPE 104 Components of Fitness Training
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with HPE 104
- ENL 111 Effective Writing
- Liberal Arts Course
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Social Work
There is an AugSem paired with both SWK 100 Introduction to Professional Social Work and PSY 105 Principles of Psychology for students interested in exploring human services.
- SWK 100 Introduction to Professional Social Work
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with SWK 100 and PSY 105
- PSY 105 Principles of Psychology
- REL 100 Religion, Vocation, and the Search for Meaning I
- Modern Language or Liberal Arts Course

Natural Science and Mathematics

Biology, Chemistry, or Pre-Health Sciences
If you are interested in biology or chemistry, or plan to pursue a graduate program in the health sciences, your schedule will look something like this:
- BIO 151 Introductory Biology and Lab
- CHM 115 General Chemistry I and Lab
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with BIO 151 or CHM 115
- Math or Liberal Arts Course
- ENL 111 Effective Writing

Physics, Math, Computer Science, or Pre-Engineering
Since these fields overlap so much, you’ll likely take introductory courses in two of these areas in your first term.
- PHY 121 General Physics I and Lab OR CSC 160 Introduction to Computer Science and Communication
- MAT 145 Calculus I
- AUG 101 AugSem connected with PHY 121, MAT 145, or CSC 160
- ENL 111 Effective Writing
- Liberal Arts Course