Course Description

This course develops student understanding and working knowledge of human behavior in families and in groups. The Mexican context of family and group work will be examined and uniquely Mexican models will be explored and discussed in relation to current family and group theory. Groups can be used to accomplish individual, family, organizational and/or community goals. Opportunities are provided in the classroom to practice the skills needed to be an effective member and facilitator. A four-week home stay with a Mexican family will provide an opportunity to learn about Mexican family structure through personal experience.

Course Objectives

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to accomplish the following objectives in the context of both Mexico and the U.S.:

1. Discuss the historical development of family and social group work.
2. Understand generalist social work practice and the strength-based empowerment, problem-solving model in terms of family and group intervention.
3. Understand the impact of the social environment on human diversity and its effect on family and group composition and behavior in the United States, Mexico, and selected countries in Latin America.
4. Express sensitivity to the needs of diverse populations in family and groups.
5. Discuss mutual aid systems based on the empowerment model.
6. Recognize one's strengths and limitations as a group member and facilitator.
7. Examine the NASW and International Code of Ethics and the Group Workers Code of Ethics.
8. Implement the generalist social work model of working with families and groups by identifying and or facilitating stages of family and group development.
9. Define issues, collect and assess data, plan, contract, identify alternative interventions, select and implement appropriate courses of action, monitor and document outcomes, and terminate the group process with families and groups.
10. Develop collegial relationships characterized by mutuality, collaboration and respect with individual group members and the group.
11. Identify the use of group process to educate and empower client systems of all sizes.
12. Compare and contrast family and group work in the United States and in Mexico; observe and experience families and groups in the community context of Cuernavaca.

13. Demonstrate growth in interpersonal relationship skills, interviewing, and self-knowledge related in work with families and groups.
14. Select and use evidence based practice and empirically supported interventions for evaluating group and family intervention strategies and one’s own generalist practice.

This course will emphasize integration of professional social work foundation knowledge, and values as reflected in the NASW Code of Ethics. Finally, a variety of teaching, knowledge transfer, and knowledge generation methods will be utilized to better facilitate learning.

Additional Comments

Explanation of Grades

Augsburg's grading system uses the following definitions:

Grade	Grade Points	Description
A	4.00	Excellent
A-	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.00	Good
B-	2.67
C+	2.33
C	2.00	Satisfactory
C-	1.67
D+	1.33
D	1.00	Poor
D-	0.67
F	0.00	Failure

A "Pass" grade is C/2.0 or above.

Grading Policy and Late Assignments

You must submit assignments on time. If you need an extension, you must talk to us in advance to negotiate a new deadline. If you have not been given an extension in advance and you turn in a late assignment, you will be docked half a grade. If you are more than one week late, you will be docked a full grade. No assignments will be accepted more than two weeks after the original deadline; a "0" will be given after that. Assignments due near the end of the semester will not be accepted after the last day of the semester.

Re-writing Assignments

If you receive a grade of C- or lower, you may revise a paper as long as you resubmit it within one week of the date it was returned to you. Your final grade will be an average of the two grades.

Augsburg Honesty Policy

You are expected to follow the Augsburg Honesty Policy which is printed in the program manual. We assume that you have read the honesty policy, understand it, and are following it. Except when the assignment expressly encourages group work, it is assumed that all course work will be your own. You may not copy other students' work. The first occurrence of plagiarism will result in the failure of the assignment. A student who commits plagiarism a second time will fail the course.

Students' Rights and Responsibilities

Students with formally diagnosed learning or physical differences have legal rights to course modifications. Those who qualify should identify themselves to the instructor as soon as possible in order to obtain extra assistance.
