AGAPE* is a hip hop artist who combines dancing, rap, and storytelling to spread the message of God's love through Christ. AGAPE* has been touring full-time as a musician for the last 12 years, performing for hundreds of thousands of youth across the U.S. and in eight countries. He has recorded six CDs and has worked with critically-acclaimed producer Ant (Atmosphere, Brother Ali) as well as Chris Brown's producer, Ra Charm. He has shared the stage with the likes of Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Toby Mac, David Crowder, Tony Campolo, and gospel giant Kirk Franklin. In 2001, he co-founded JUMP (Joint Urban Ministries in Praise), a ministry dedicated to helping urban youth unleash their leadership skills through the arts. Recently he founded a youth-led worship service called AMP (All Metro Praise), which attracts hundreds of youth from across the metro area. In 2009, he received the Tom Hunstad Award for excellence in youth ministry for his contribution to the lives of young people. His ministry was also recently featured in an ABC affiliated documentary titled Peace of Bread about food insecurity in America.
