Health & Wellness Information

Travel seminars can be physically and emotionally demanding. Please thoughtfully assess your health in light of the potential rigors of the trip. Examples:

- Climatic changes--high temperatures (90 - 110 F) and/or high humidity; change in altitude (7000 ft. in Mexico City; 5000 ft. in Cuernavaca, Johannesburg) • Exposure to unfamiliar bacteria due to change in diet • Long days and intense schedules • High levels of air pollution • Travel in cramped vehicles • Some travel on foot on uneven ground • Limited availability of some medical equipment and medicines in some countries • Significant time difference (in Africa and Asia)

These factors, combined with potential strains from culture shock and intensive interaction with other group members, can affect your health. Illnesses requiring bed rest impair one's ability to participate in scheduled programming, and can affect the entire group's learning process. We ask that you assess your physical and mental condition carefully and encourage you to consult with your health care provider. The medical information you provide here will not be used to determine your acceptance into the program. We require that you provide us with the following information so that our staff can make any possible accommodations to meet your health needs, and respond to emergencies. Any information you provide will be kept confidential. Feel free to contact our travel seminar staff if you have any questions.
