MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS AND HAPPENINGS

Discounted prices for students to attend Nobel Peace Prize Forum. Faculty and staff are asked to encourage students to participate in the Nobel Peace Prize Forum (NPPF) that runs from March 1 to 3.

The Augsburg Community – students, faculty, and staff – can attend for half price ($10 for students, $20 for faculty and staff) by registering via their official Augsburg e-mail addresses. The three-day program includes a range of local, national, and international leaders, including:

- Nobel Peace Prize Laureate F.W. de Klerk, former president of South Africa. (9:15-10:15 a.m., March 3)
- Alf Bjorseth, chairman of SCATEC AS, will address the role of sustainable energy technologies to renew peace and foster stability. (9:30-10:30 a.m., March 1)
- Adam Hochschild, journalist, teacher, and author, will speak about the moral issues of World War I and those who tried to prevent the carnage that occurred. (1-2:10 p.m., March 1)
- Saki Macozoma, business leader, former member of South Africa's parliament, and a prisoner on Robben Island during apartheid, will talk about business and the price of peace in post-apartheid South Africa. (4-5 p.m., March 1)
- Benjamin Britten's *War Requiem, Tedd Mann Concert Hall, University of Minnesota. (7:30-10 p.m., March 1)
- Joe Cavanaugh, Youth Frontiers founder, talks of building respectful school communities. (1:45-2:45 p.m., March 2)
- Andrew Slack, founder of the Harry Potter Alliance, will address how to use the morals and lessons of Harry Potter to fight the dark arts in the real world. (4:30-5:30 p.m., March 2)
- Dessa, nationally known hip-hop artist, will talk about ethics, hip-hop, and present a mini-set. (8-10:30 p.m., March 2)
- Auggie and Nobel Laureate Peter Agre, 2003 Nobel Prize in Chemistry and Augsburg College alumnus, will address the role of science in behind-the-scenes efforts to foster humanitarian objectives that are not possible for politicians and government leaders. (12:30-1:45 p.m., March 3)
- Geir Lundestad, Norwegian Nobel Institute, will talk about controversial Nobel Peace Prizes, and whether the awards were successes or failures. (12:30-1:45 p.m., March 3)
- Abdul Aziz Said, professor of American University, on the value to peace of ecological balance, dignity, political pluralism, and cultural diversity. (12:30-1:45 p.m., March 3)
- "Reunion: 10 Years After the War," special showing of this Amanda Award-winning documentary that shows the meeting between Albanian and Serb students 10 years after the bombings of Kosovo. (Multiple showings March 3)

- Jonathan Mann, CNN international correspondent, will discuss the character and qualities of Laureates, a perspective gathered during 16 years of interviewing Laureates as they received their awards in Oslo. Mann also will moderate question and answer sessions following keynote presentations. (Speaks 4-4:30 p.m., March 3)
- Naomi Tutu, international human rights advocate and daughter of Archbishop Desmond Tutu, will present a closing call to action. (4:30-5 p.m., March 3)

A full program, with session descriptions, is at <http://nobelpeaceprizeforum.org/2012-program/>. Session room locations will be available soon.

The NPPF offers students, staff, and faculty many opportunities to hear from international, national, and state leaders on topics related to peace and peacemaking. This is the first year the Forum will be held in its new Twin Cities-based format. Augsburg is hosting the Forum in conjunction with the Humphrey School of Public Affairs, and the support of our sister Norwegian Lutheran colleges, and our community partners.

Sign up now for Augsburg Alerts. All current students, staff and faculty are encouraged to register for Augsburg Alerts, an electronic communications system used to communicate with the community about timely emergency information or weather closures via text message, voice mail, and/or e-mail to registered personal cell phones, landlines, or personal e-mail addresses. To register, download <http://web.augsburg.edu/dps/ACAlerts.pdf>. Faculty and staff are asked to encourage students and direct reports to register for Augsburg Alerts. Augsburg Alerts is only one of a range of communication tools that can be used by the College in emergency or weather situations.

CAMPUS PROJECTS AND INITIATIVES

3rd Annual Auggies vs. Tommies Health Challenge. Auggie faculty and staff will take on the St. Thomas Tommies in the 3rd Annual Health Challenge. Last year, nearly 150 Auggies participated and helped bring home the gold for the second year running. This year, Auggies will strive to do the same. The challenge kicks off on February 13 and runs through May 4. Details http://augnet.augsburg.edu/news-archives/2012/01\_30\_12/HealthChallenge.html.

Precinct caucuses Tuesday, Feb. 7. Auggies are encouraged to participate in precinct caucuses for Minnesota's political parties. The caucuses are the starting point for selecting candidates for the 2012 election. More in A-Mail at <http://inside.augsburg.edu/amaill/#32930>.

Strommen Executive Speakers Series presents CEO of CUB Foods. Keith Wyche, President and CEO of CUB Foods, will speak about moving up the corporate ladder on February 9 for the Strommen Executive Speakers Series. As the head of a $3 billion retail grocery chain that is part of the $40 billion SUPERVALU family of grocery stores, Wyche directs sales, marketing, merchandising, operational excellence, and is responsible for 8,000 staff. He also is one of the top-ranking African American business leaders in the United States. The Twitter Hashtag for the event is #AugStrom. RSVP at <https://smaug.augsburg.edu/NetCommunity/SSLPage.aspx?pid=463>. Immediately following, there will be a student-alumni networking event from 6 to 8 p.m. in the lobby of Oren Gateway. RSVP information in A-Mail at <http://augnet.augsburg.edu/amaill/#32920>.

Lunar New Year celebration includes performances, food. Celebrate the Lunar New Year from 5 to 9 p.m., February 10, in the Commons. The celebration, sponsored by the Augsburg Asian Student Association, will include student performances, food, games, and activities.

February convocations explore forgiveness and Arab Spring. Two convocations are scheduled for February. First, on February 11, the Center for Counseling and Health Promotion Convocation will feature Frederic Luskin, the director of Stanford University's Forgiveness Projects. Luskin is a researcher on the training and measurement of forgiveness therapy, and author of a range of books.
