i followed the checkout to a tee.

I left my bed exactly as I found it when I arrived in september 2010.

as far as the cleaning, my room mate is still living in that room. charging me for something that hasn't yet occurred and is likely not even caused by me since I no longer live in Urness 816 and someone else does...

I'd like some input on that, I don't think thats quite right.
