

The International Social Work Conference
Augsburg University, Minneapolis MN U.S.A.
In association with MCSWE
Conference Dates: May 17-18, 2018
Call for Proposals

The International Conference Committee of the social work department at Augsburg University, Minneapolis in collaboration with the Minnesota Council on Social Work Education (MCSWE) is pleased to invite submissions for presentations within areas of social work in a global setting. This conference seeks to bring together educators, researchers, practitioners, students, and other stakeholders who are interested in issues related to social work within the global arena. It should be noted that up to 10 CEUs are available for attending the conference.

Submissions are encouraged in all areas related to social work theory, practice, research and policy. Submissions can be empirical, conceptual, or practice based.

Proposal DEADLINE: March 9, 2018

Please submit your proposals by filling online form by March 9, 2018

Potential topics:

- Methods of social work practice
- Globalization and its impact
- Ethical considerations in social work
- Multicultural clinical social work
- Evidence based practice
- Supervision and administration
- Social movements and/or community development
- Diversity and social justice
- Sustainable development
- Environmental Justice
- Public health

Submission Instructions:

Presentation types include papers, poster presentations, roundtable discussions, and interactive workshops. This conference encourages presentations as they relate to social work in the micro, macro, or policy level in any part of the world. Please open the online forms for further instruction.

Augsburg University
Department of Social Work
2211 Riverside Avenue
Minneapolis Minnesota
55454
USA