

Bridging Social Work Practice Around the World

Conference Dates: June 12-13, 2014

Call for Abstracts

The International Conference Committee in the social work department at Augsburg College, Minneapolis is pleased to invite submissions for presentations within areas of social work in a global setting. The conference themed “Bridging Social Work Practice Around the World” seeks to bring together educators, researchers, practitioners, students, and other stakeholders who are interested in issues related to social work within the global arena. The goal of this conference is to share knowledge of social work practice around the world.

PLEASE NOTE: CALL FOR ABSTRACTS OPENS ON November 22, 2013. THE ABSTRACT DEADLINE IS January 31, 2014.

Submissions are encouraged in all areas related to social work theory, practice, research and policy. Submissions can be empirical or practice based.

Suggested Topics:

- Methods of social work practice in different countries
- Globalization and its impact on the world
- Ethical considerations in social work practice
- Clinical social work practice
- Evidence based practice
- Supervision and administration
- Social work and social movements
- Community development
- Diversity and social justice within social work practice
- Sustainable development
- Environmental Justice
- Public health

Submission Instructions

Presentation types include individual papers, poster presentations, and organized workshops. This conference encourages presentations as they relate to social work in the micro, macro, or policy level in any part of the world. Abstracts should be submitted in a structure that includes the following:

- Title (25 words or less)
- Presenter(s) and brief bio (100 words or less)
- An abstract (500 words or less)
  - Background
  - Purpose
  - Research or program design (as appropriate)
  - Results or practice implications
  - Overall contribution to social work

All submissions should be emailed to intlswkconf@augsborg.edu by January 31, 2014

We look forward to seeing you in June!