Meet Our Newest Career Specialist - Keith Munson

Keith graduated from St. Olaf College with majors in Psychology and Family Studies. After working in chemical dependency counseling following college, Keith completed the graduate program in Counseling and Student Personnel at Minnesota State University, Mankato. During his graduate program, Keith worked in the Career Development Center at Mankato and taught career exploration courses to first and second year students.

Keith has over ten years of experience counseling various student populations on career exploration and job search strategies. He has worked for Cornell College in Mount Vernon Iowa. Cornell is a small, private liberal arts college known for the “One Course At A Time” academic calendar. Keith also worked at the University of Minnesota for over seven years with undergraduate and graduate engineering and science students as well as graduate business students (MBA and Human Resources) at the Carlson School of Management. Throughout his career, Keith has also provided career counseling and coaching to alumni and community members through his church.

Keith is married with two daughters and lives in Minneapolis, MN. He enjoys spending time with his family, working on house projects, refinishing old furniture and cars, and visiting with friends.
